

Huffman Road Reconstruction

Lake Otis Parkway to Pintail Street

The Alaska Department of Transportation & Public Facilities (DOT&PF) is utilizing the services of DOWL HKM to complete engineering design of Huffman Road between Lake Otis Parkway and Pintail Street. The project team is seeking your input into design of pavement reconstruction and storm drain improvements to resolve the existing pavement deterioration. This segment will remain a two lane road but may also include new curb and gutter, a multi-use asphalt pathway along the north side, and a gravel pathway along the south side. The eastern end will transition to the recently-completed Municipality of Anchorage improvements at the intersection of Pintail Street/Cange Street and Huffman Road.

The proposed improvements between Lake Otis Parkway and Pintail Street are being coordinated with the ongoing project from Old Seward Highway to Lake Otis Parkway. The design of that project is nearly complete, and right-of-way acquisition is in progress. Engineering drawings for the Old Seward Highway to Lake Otis Parkway segment will be available for information at the meeting.
